SANCERRE

What if alchemy could be defined as an uncontrollable and reciprocal attraction between two individuals ? And if that alchemy was the perfect OSMOSIS felt by those two individuals. We would therefore be entitled to truly think that some things are just meant to go together.

We have translated this perspective into our version of this blended cuvée - Sancerre Blanc Domaine Denizot 2022. A cuvée that brings people together, a cuvée for sharing, a cuvée in which each plot has its place and at the same time, generates a perfect OSMOSIS between each of them.

We decided to take the time to give a name to this Estate cuvée. The name was rather simple to find, as it reflects the work we carry out over the course of several months, resulting in this OSMOSIS.

Each vintage has its own differences, but our aim is to offer you a wine that reflects the balance of each of these vintages and the pronounced uniqueness of our calcareous terroirs.

Today we are proud to introduce OSMOZE 2022. Like two hearts that are languidly waiting to meet, we age the wines from each plot separately on full fermentation lees. They are then blended the following spring to create this harmonious blend. We then add sulfites sourced from volcanic sulfur (which we produce) in preparation for the second ageing of the blend, thereby reaching a perfect state of osmosis which avoids filtering the wine, resulting in its naturally limpid, brilliant aspect.

As you have probably understood, we take our time. The time to let the wines from each plot do their thing, followed by the time to bring them together and finally, the time to let them express themselves!

Given that evolution never happens on its own, we have also developed a new look, with lighter yet sturdier bottles that are slendrer and more elegant, boasting a great deal of character, as they are adorned with new textured, more streamlined labels that showcase bold graphics.

And so, it is with great emotion and pride that we invite you to discover this elegant new vintage that is bursting with fruit and energy!
